

PRESS RELEASE

Radioline & Netgem team up to bring radio on OTT worldwide

London, the 10th of January 2018 – Netgem, the leading connected entertainment solutions provider for operators and service providers, chooses Radioline to bring a worldwide catalog of stations & podcasts on its platform.

Netgem provides a complete Entertainment software suite enabling a smart way to lifestyle services: building on Netgem strong experience of award-winning entertainment experience on STBs, Netgem is now expanding to more features, more content, and more devices with Netgem 'Virtual STB' software.

Radioline's appTV offers the largest catalogue of 70,000 worldwide radio stations and podcasts from 130 countries. The app aims to enhance the listening experience and is enriched with visual information about programs, presenters, artists and covers in an elegant display, which is simple to navigate.

International and local FM / DAB / Webradios are available in different catalogues, with six categories for radios, 15 for podcasts and one per country.

Searching for stations and programs is quick and easy with auto-completion, which helps customers to find the content they want at the click of a button. An eye-catching display of covers also offers suggestions enabling people to discover new stations through music tracks streamed on air.

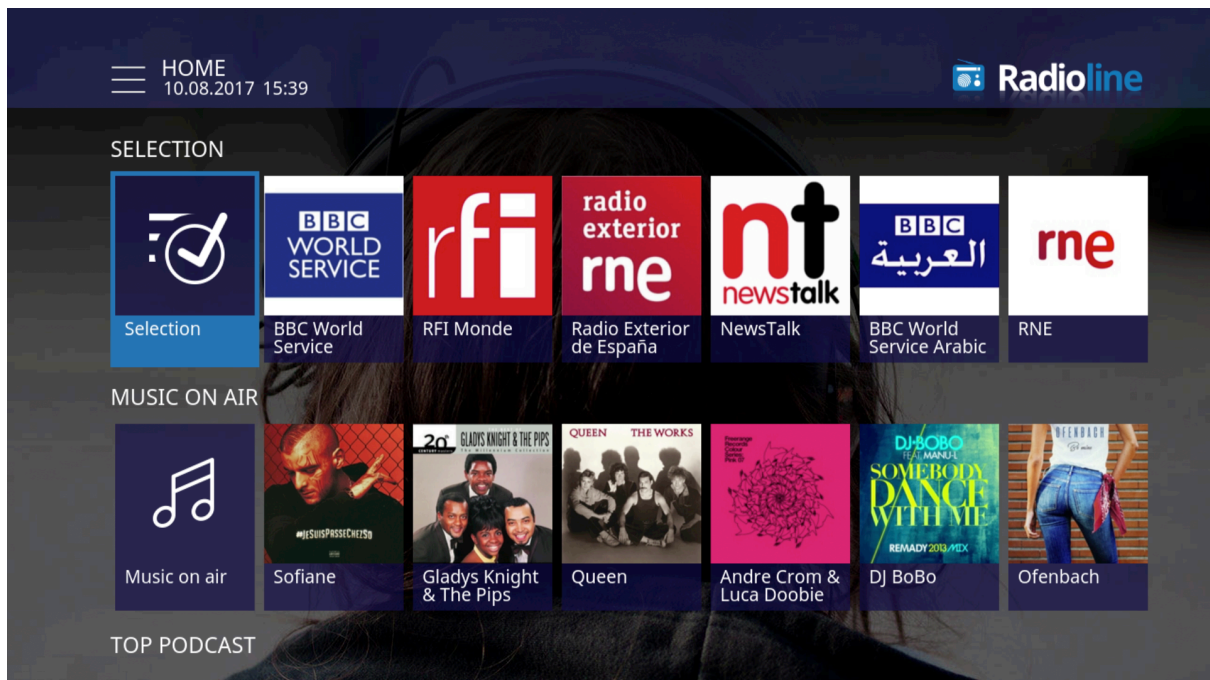

The app can also be personalized in six languages and offers a one-click feature enabling customers to keep their favorite shows and settings on top of their list.

Netgem customers can find the Radioline app in the Music section of the TV menu and can instantly enjoy to a range of their favourite radio stations and podcasts.

« We are proud to partner with Netgem, a fast-growing techie company developing high level entertainment products and services, to offer the best radio experience to their customers » concludes Xavier Filliol – COO of Radioline.
